

A full-page background image of Captain America (Steve Rogers) in his iconic blue, white, and red suit. He is holding his circular shield, which features a white star on a blue background, surrounded by red and white concentric rings. He is positioned in the center, looking slightly to the right. The entire scene is framed within a large, dark, circular metallic structure that resembles a porthole or a window. Outside this frame, a dark, smoky, and chaotic environment is visible, with a police car and other vehicles partially seen in the background. Small orange sparks or embers are floating in the air around the shield.
