April 16 – The Art and Flair of Mary Blair with John Canemaker

3:00pm, Theater

Tickets available online at www.waltdisney.org

Mary Blair (1911-1978) was one of Walt Disney's most brilliant conceptual designers, helping define the look of such classics as Cinderella (1950), Alice in Wonderland (1951), and Peter Pan (1953). She also brought her distinctive, colorful style to children's books, advertisements, theatrical set designs, and theme park attractions, including "It's A Small World." The deceptively naive style of her commercial artwork belied great visual sophistication in everything from color choices to composition. Academy Award-winning animation filmmaker

John Canemaker, author of The Art and Flair of May Blair (Disney Editions, 2003), gives a profusely illustrated lecture on the artist, with insights into her life and work.
