Service Learning Student Log: Research

Have you ever heard the phrase, “Knowledge is power?” The more you learn about the problem you’ve chosen, the better able you will be to help solve it. This learning log will help guide your research process, although you’ll continue to find information even after you complete the log. Use these questions to guide your research.

1. In the space below, write what you already know about the community problem or issue you’ve selected.
2. Now write five to 10 questions about the issue to which you would like to learn the answers.
Think about:
  - The history of the problem
  - The current situation
  - What will happen in the future if the problem is not addressed
  - What’s already been done to address it
  - Potential collaborators, or people who can help you find information
  - Possibilities for change
