

The World Economy Part 3: Global Interdependence

Policy Chart

As you watch “The World Economy Part 3: Global Interdependence,” fill in the goal of the policies listed in column A, the positive effects of those policies in column B, as well as negative effects in column C.

Segment: Policies	A Policy Goal	B Positive Effects	C Negative Effects
The World Bank: The World Bank and International Monetary Fund make loans to developing countries
World Trade: U.S. leads international embargo against trade and investment in Vietnam
North America Free Trade Agreement: Reduction in some trade restrictions among the countries of U.S., Canada and Mexico.
A Bitter Pill: Brazil instituted price and wage freezes.
The Euro: Eleven European countries converted their currencies into one: the euro.			